MIDWEST CRASH INJURIES KILL BOROUGH WOMAN

Mrs. June Wall Had Been Driving West For Trip to Japan

Mrs. June L. Wall, 31, of 478 North Franklin street, died Wednesday night at 11:30 o'clock of multiple injuries received in an automobile collision near Kearney, Neb., her family was informed yesterday.

Her mother, Mrs. Jennie (Stauffer) Bewley, 478 North Franklin street, was notified of Mrs. Wall's death as she was preparing to board a plane in Philadelphia to fly to Good Samaritan hospital, Kearney.

The trip was canceled.

Mrs. Wall was injured fatally in a head-on collision with another automobile on U. S. Route 40 Tuesday afternoon as she was driving west on the road, where her Army husband is stationed.

Her step-son, Jack Jr., 14, who was with her, suffered only minor injuries.

A REGISTERED nurse, Mrs. Wall graduated from Pottstown High school in 1938, and received her training at Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia.

She joined the Army Nurse corps as a lieutenant in 1943, and was discharged in 1946.

For the past year she had been working at Fort Bragg, N. C., while waiting clearance to join her husband Capt. Jack Wall, overseas.

Besides her husband and step-son, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Bewley, and a brother, Gerald R. Bewley, of 478 North Franklin street.

Arrangements in charge of a funeral home at 711 North Franklin street were incomplete last night.

Cowboys and Indians Overrun Play Areas

The war cries of "Indians" and the sharp cracks of cap gun six-shooters were heard at five of the borough's playgrounds yesterday. The recreation areas were celebrating their cowboy days, as part of playground cowboy week at all borough play spots.

Boys and girls at Tot Lot, Hillcrest, Rupert, Manatawny and Jefferson playgrounds dressed in costumes of Indians and cowboys made the recreation areas their own old wild west territories.

Indians hid behind playground equipment which they called trees to protect them from the "bullets" of the settlers.

Other redskins dashed about on their horses to rout the trespassers from their homeland—broomsticks served as horses.

At Tot Lot playground the best dressed cowboys were Arthur Jordan and Kip Bitter and the best dressed cowgirls were Kay Emery and Susan Haynes.

Bruce Yergey was unanimously acclaimed the most natural looking Indian in his costume.

The winners were awarded felt cowboy hat emblems and peanuts.

Widow Better After Rescue In Apartment

Mrs. Daisy G. Fronheiser, 85-year-old widow of a Pottstown merchant and banker, was reported in "very good" condition yesterday after lying unattended in her Washington D. C. apartment for a day after her nephew died.

When police broke into the apartment Wednesday afternoon, they found the nephew, Chalmers S. McConnell, 50, dead in the kitchen and Mrs. Fronheiser semi-conscious in bed.

McConnell was lying near the gas stove, his hair singed and his pajama top burned off. A scheduled autopsy to determine the cause of his death was delayed until at least today, the district coroner reported.

Police believed McConnell may have become ill while preparing breakfast Tuesday morning for his aunt, who has been bedridden for several years. Four gas jets were burning on the stove when the police entered.

Dr. William T. Saccardi said Mrs. Fronheiser, who was taken to Providence hospital, had come through her ordeal surprisingly well.

Her nephew, McConnell, at one time held a diplomatic post in Colombia. He also had been president of the Washington Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Samuel Porter Ignores His 93d Birthday

Samuel H. Porter treated his 93d birthday yesterday as just another day in the office.

President treasurer of Pottstown Cold Storage and Warehouse company, Porter was at his desk bright and early as usual, but wasn't making any fuss whatsoever about the occasion.

He had been so quiet about his birthday that one of the employees said: "We didn't even know it was his birthday."

No birthday observance was held during the day.

Porter, who has lived at 547 High street most of his life, was proprietor of a drugstore at High and Washington streets for half a century, and at one time was president of borough council.

His younger brother, Dr. J. Elmer Porter, will be 87 years old Aug. 12.

What, no after dinner mints? . . . Far from being satisfied with ordinary roughage this Pottstown area pony is developing a specialized interest in desserts, particularly fancy ones such as this pie a la mode combination being served by the pony's 8-year-old master, Barry Lee Ewing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ewing, Church road, Linfield. Other desserts it favors are watermelon and cantaloupe.

MIDSUMMER MADNESS? Otherwise-Normal Pony Enjoys Pies

Hay and straw may be all right for ordinary ponies, but a black-and-white pony in Linfield prefers a well-balanced diet including pie, oyster soup, peaches, ice cream and watermelon. And the pony is even fussy about how it eats these dishes.

Mrs. Robert Ewing, Church road, Linfield, whose 8-year-old son, Barry Lee, rides the pony, said it now not only eats watermelon, but all started about two years ago eats only the red part. "When he gets down to the green part," she said, "it says . . ."

The boy's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Josiah Ewing who lives nearby, had put out a bowl of soup and bread for the dogs.

Dixie wandered over, sniffed the dish prepared for the dogs, then gobbled it up before the dogs could answer the dinner bell. After that, straw and hay didn't mean much to the pony any more.

The boy's mother said the pony agreed with Dixie. The only time the pony has gotten sick was when it wandered into a neighboring farmer's truck patch and overdid things with corn.

The varied diet apparently agrees with Dixie. The only time the pony has gotten sick was when it wandered into a neighboring farmer's truck patch and overdid things with corn.

Higher Prices Seen for Food

Pottstown housewives have not yet felt the effects of the drought which has burned out $1,000,000,000 worth of crops and pastures in New England and the South, but it may not be too long before they do.

Although food prices have been relatively stable recently, Herbert Drumheller is among local merchants who agree with U. S. Price Stabilizer Ellis G. Arnall, who has predicted skyrocketing prices.

"Although it isn't too apparent yet," said Drumheller, "I can see a definite trend toward higher prices. A shortage of farm labor, the lifting of OPS regulations, and finally the drought are going to boost prices another 5 percent in the months ahead."

Drumheller pointed out the widespread drought in many states is sharply reducing the supply of fresh fruits and vegetables for canning, and this will create shortages.

Hearings Set For Violators Of Weed Law

Hearings for five property owners charged with violating the borough weed ordinance, probably will be held within two weeks.

This was reported yesterday by Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus, of the Seventh ward, who would conduct the hearings. He said that plans call for all the charges to be heard in one night.

The charges were filed with him by the borough the past July 21. Cadmus said the delay in setting hearings had been caused by the fact that two of the properties involved were owned by estates or companies, and action against them was complicated.

Most of the five already have indicated their intention of cutting the weeds.

"Only buyer resistance will keep prices down," commented Drumheller, "and of course, we don't like to see that."

RIGHT NOW, the only high-priced food item is pork, and Drumheller said this was just a seasonal rise. "As soon as the farmers are through with the plowing," he said, "they will bring their hogs into market, and beef prices will drop."

John Dusko, manager of a downtown market, said the drought had no effect on prices yet, and the commodity situation had been steady for the past month. In fact, he added, such vegetables as peas, lima beans and lettuce were a few cents lower than usual.

I. B. Leaman, manager of another supermarket, agreed that prices had been stable for the past few months, but declined to predict the future trend.

"Most vegetables are reasonable now," he said. "It's hard to tell what's going to happen next."

Harold Litvin, manager of the People's market, said the only reason (Continued on Page Twenty-three)

Burglar Begins Admitting List Of Area Crimes

The man who was arrested shortly after he committed a safe burglary in Palm the past Saturday already has admitted four other burglaries and is expected to confess as many as 20 before his questioning ends.

This was reported yesterday by Sgt. Thomas Devlin, in charge of the Jeffersonville State police station, who, with Corp. Donald C. Bearcraft, has been questioning Kenneth R. Dries, 33, Baltimore, Md., for more than three days.

Dries was arrested by State Troopers Carl Ziesler and Vincent McGlone after he took about $100 from the safe of Boss Manufacturing company, Palm. They found a revolver and professional safe cracking tools in his car.

McKellar Falls Behind in Voting

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 7 (AP)—Veteran Senator K. D. McKellar trailed farther behind tonight in his Tennessee Democratic primary race for an unprecedented seventh U. S. Senate term.

Rep. Albert Gore, 44, built up a lead of more than 28,000 votes over McKellar, 83, on the basis of unofficial returns from 1207 of the State's 2300 precincts.

Tabulation of the votes from the 1207 precincts gave Gore 59,121 votes to McKellar's 61,911 total.

The returns came from every district in the State except the fifth (Nashville-Davidson county) and the Ninth (Memphis-Shelby county). McKellar has always run strong in his home city of Memphis.

Anselda Soldier Wrote of Quiet in Korea One Day Before He Was Killed on Patrol

By CHARLES T. HEARN (Mercury Staff Writer)

The day before Pfc John J. Cooper, 18, of Anselda, was killed in action in Korea, he wrote his parents. "Things are quiet and peaceful now."

That letter was dated July 20. On July 26, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cooper received a telegram from the war department notifying them that their son had been killed five days earlier.

"This is the last letter we have from him," Mrs. Cooper said, holding a few white sheets of paper tightly.

"He said, 'Mom, they are going to raise my pay by $45 and that will mean I can buy my new car quicker when I get home,'" Mrs. Cooper read from the letter.

"That's all he talked about," the grief-stricken mother went on. "He was sending money home and we were saving it for him so he could buy a car when he was discharged and he could tour the country."

"You see how he signed this letter," she said, holding up the last page. "He told me before that he was expecting a promotion and it says here, 'Soon I will be signing my name with corporal instead of PFC.'"

MRS. COOPER said she received a letter from her boy's commanding officer yesterday.

"He told me my son was on a patrol in enemy territory, and that he was hit by small arms fire," she said.

And then she whispered, "The officer said that he was killed."

Council May Ask For Sidewalk

A Third ward councilman's hard fight to get Pottstown Cold Storage and Warehouse company to put in a sidewalk on a 25-foot stretch of South street near the foot of South Penn street appeared near victory yesterday.

Borough Solicitor C. Edmund Wells reported that a resolution will be introduced at next week's council meeting calling for the company to be notified to lay the sidewalk.

If the company does not comply, the resolution will say, the borough will put in the sidewalk itself, and then lien the property not only for the cost of this work but also for the customary 10 percent penalty.

The Third ward councilman who has been most outspoken in demanding this improvement, George P. Ruyak, said he welcomed the news and that he would welcome the opportunity to introduce such a resolution himself.

WELLS SAID he was merely submitting the resolution for inclusion on the agenda. If the resolution were not introduced first by a councilman, it normally would be introduced by the borough secretary.

Ruyak has announced he is relinquishing his council seat because he is moving to the North End. He said yesterday that he will continue to serve until he submits his resignation just before he moves, which probably will be in October.

Sticky Weather Sticks Around

Once again, Pottstownians yesterday felt as sticky as old cinnamon buns.

The deenergizing humidity raged from 72 to 93 percent.

At 5 a. m., with the mercury reading a low of 70, the humidity was glued to 93 percent—high for the day.

At 10 o'clock last night after thermometers had receded to 73 the humidity hung heavy at 88.

Yesterday's high temperature was a jelly-like 81.

Today the temperature is slated to climb. It will register a high of 82 to 86 and clouds will pre-South street near the foot of South Penn street appeared near victory yesterday.

Vacationing With Mercury Readers

By THE VACATION EDITOR of The Mercury Staff

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ewing and their son, Frank Jr., 162 Second avenue, Royersford, and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Helrick, of Limerick, sent The Mercury a card saying, "We've traveled 4000 miles in nine days touring the West and Yellow stone."

They go on to say that it is "beautiful country but there is no place like good old Pennsylvania." Their card postmarked Monticello, Ind., had a picture of an electric fountain in Crapo Park, Burlington, Iowa, on the front. Long strings of lights were arranged to resemble water shooting up in the air and falling into a pool surrounding it.

MR. AND MRS. Andrew Olock and family and Mrs. Anna Olock, all of 362 Union alley, said that they found it very beautiful in Rockaway, N. Y., on their vacation.

Their postcard shows the Cross Bay boulevard bridge in Rockaway.

MR. AND MRS. John Ewanick and their granddaughters, 449 High street, said that they are "spending a couple of days at Ocean City, Md."

Their card shows a portion of the boardwalk and the typically crowded long, yellow beach.

Beach, Ocean City, Md.

and Veronica Ondik, 20 South Charlotte street, send their greetings from Atlantic City where they are "having a wonderful time and the water is fine."

The ocean at sunset is shown on the picture side of the card.

MRS. ANNA Stott, 532 Nutt road, Phoenixville, writes that she has been having a nice time boating on Lake Harmony in the Poconos.

Her card depicts a colorful scene at Split Rock.

JANET AND RUSS Rhoads, of 1257 Queen street, wrote that they are relaxing in the cool and quiet at Fox Lake, Ill., but that their son George became ill the same night they wrote the card.

Greek Troops Move To Bulgaria Border, Open Fire on Island

Encamped Reds Are Targets

ATHENS, Aug. 7 (AP)—Greece moved up troops to the Bulgarian border today, possibly in force, and sprayed mortar and machinegun fire on soldiers of Communist Bulgaria encamped on the disputed island of Gamma in the Evros river, which forms the Greek-Turkish-Bulgarian frontier.

Unofficial reports from the scene indicated the Greeks were backed by artillery, but the Greek general staff blacked out information on the size of its forces or the gravity of the situation.

(United Nations Balkans commission observers on the scene reported to the UN in New York that big forces of both countries were ready for action. Before the shooting started they called the situation "very dangerous" and urged Greece to ask UN intervention which might "possibly save the situation.")

(The Greek delegate at the UN already had said Greece was not contemplating such a request. Despite some expressed fears of a dangerous Balkan flareup, a Greek diplomatic source at Istanbul, Turkey, described the incident as a continuation of a series of flareups in the area over the past five years. Istanbul dispatches quoted officials at Adrianople, Turkish town 10 miles from Gamma, as saying the firing lasted 90 minutes, stopping at 10 a.m.—(4 a.m., Pottstown time).

Help in Exodus Asked of Reds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force Finletter urged Communist leaders today to cooperate in minimizing danger to civilians in 78 Korean cities scheduled for bombing of military targets by UN forces.

"If the Communists will work with us, we can hold down, if not entirely avoid civilian casualties," Finletter said in a statement made before television cameras and reporters at the Pentagon.

The secretary emphasized, however, that "we have to destroy these military objectives and equipment because they will be used against our boys."

Reports from the Far East have indicated that the Red leaders thus far have failed to cooperate with the United Nations command in getting civilians away from cities on the bombing schedule.

IN REPLY to specific questions put to him by the Associated Press, General Otto T. Weyland, Far East air chief, messaged today that there had been no mass exodus of civilians from potential targets.

"Far East Air Force operational policy," Weyland told the AP, "is to attack and destroy these military targets whenever and wherever they are found."

Boxer Explosion Kills 9 Seamen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—A jet airplane exploded below decks on the carrier Boxer off Korea Tuesday night, killing nine seamen, injuring 75 and destroying 12 other aircraft.

Sixty-three members of the crew leaped overboard to escape the flames which raged through the hangar deck, where the airplanes were stored. They were rescued by lifeboats and helicopters.

The Navy reported the accident today and said it occurred in waters 50 miles off Korea.

About 50 of the injured were listed as suffering from smoke exhaustion, the Navy said. Only 11 are still in the ship's sick bay, with one case listed as "serious" and another as "critical."

The boxer is proceeding to Yokosuka naval base in Japan.

NO ENEMY action was involved, the Navy said. The cause of the explosion was still undetermined. There was unofficial speculation here that an accumulation of gases in the aircraft led to the blast.

Those killed, the Navy announced, were:
Lt. James Edward Shropshire Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Garrett, Birmingham, Ala.
Corp. Terrell R. Roulston, Marine corps, husband of Mrs. Fonda Evelyn Roulston, Fullerton, Calif.
Pvt. 1st Class Arthur M. Kozuki, Marine corps, son of Yutaka Kozuki, Honolulu.

Vernon Leroy Cowger, Personnelman 3rd class, son of Roy Edward Cowger, Soledad, Calif.
James Verville Wark, hospital corpsman 3rd class, son of Mrs. Violet Verna Wark, El Monte, Calif.
Billy Gene Soden, aviation electronics technician, 2nd class, son of David Timothy Soden, Ceres, Calif.

William Bennett Burdette, aviation electronics technician, 3rd class, son of William Bennett Burdette, Indianapolis.
Ignacio Canales Jr., airman, son of Ignacio Canales Sr., Benavides, Tex.
Richard Smith Taylor, hospital man, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Taylor, Kendallville, Noble, Indiana.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 7 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson today appointed Senator Mike Monroney of Oklahoma as head of the speakers bureau for the Democratic National committee.

Iran Speaker Elected
TEHRAN, Iran, Aug. 7 (AP)—Ayatollah Kashani, a fanatically anti-British Moslem leader of the national front which keeps Premier Mohammed Mossadeq in power, was elected today as speaker of Iran's lower house of Parliament, the Majlis.

Of the 62 deputies present, 47 voted for the bearded little mullah (priest) whom many consider the real behind-the-scenes strong man in Iran. He himself has boasted he could "summon an army of put million martyrs for any cause."

Air War Raging
SEOUL, Friday, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Allied air war rose in fury Thursday with hundreds of fighter-bombers sowing destruction across North Korea and Sabres destroying four MIG jets that tried to interfere.

The Fifth Air Force said five MIGs also were damaged, bringing Red losses to 15 destroyed and 19 damaged in four days of torrid combat. Allied losses are announced weekly.

The Air Force was not talking about the air blows were designed to put the Communists to a pressure on the armistice table.

GOP 'Hatchet Men' Attacked by Moody

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 6 (AP)—Young Sen. Blair Moody of Michigan proposed today that the Democrats turn their campaign guns not only against GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower but also against those Moody called the "hatchet men" of the Republican party.

Moody made this proposal to Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson during a conference in which he invited the Illinois Governor to kickoff his campaign with a Labor Day speech in Detroit.

A reporter asked Moody to identify the "hatchet men" and he replied: "You know them as well as I do." Then he went on to mention the names of Senators McCarthy of Wisconsin, Kim of Missouri and Jenner of Indiana.

This proposal was among these other developments:
1. Moody urged Stevenson to challenge Eisenhower to a series of radio-television debates during the campaign.

2. STEVENSON named Sen. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma to be the Democratic vice presidential nominee—as head of the party's National Speakers bureau.

3. Reports from Stevenson's headquarters indicated that the name of former Sen. Francis P. Myers of Pennsylvania is not among the top four being considered for the post of Democratic national chairman.

4. The new Democratic national chairman may be named Sunday after Stevenson talks here with the present chairman.

Czech Gov't. Kicks Out Middle Class

VIENNA, Austria, Aug. 7 (AP)—The first reports from usually reliable sources tonight said the Czechoslovak Government is deporting thousands of members of the former middle class from the nation's key cities.

The reports compared the wave of deportations to those in Hungary. Thousands of families were said to have been forcibly driven from their homes in Prague, Bratislava and other cities in the past two or three weeks.

The reports said lawyers, architects, former factory owners and persons who held similar jobs before the Communists squeezed them out were the prime targets of the Czech Government.

AT LEAST 10,000 persons were reported forced to leave their homes in Prague and Bratislava during the first week of the deportations.

The first group of deportees were said to have included 1500 families in Prague and 300 in Bratislava. The reports said the Czech Government, apparently fearing Western reaction, was carrying out the removals more humanely than in other east European Soviet satellite States. However, most of the expelled city residents were said to have been dumped off trains in rural areas. The male members of the families moved may be forced to take jobs in the Communist Government's factories, in mines, or on farms.

Three types of deportation notices were reported: 1. Immediate removal from the country. 2. Removal to a labor camp. 3. Removal to a concentration camp.

Arthur H. Vandenberg Jr., one of the GOP nominee's aides, told reporters: "That is the Senator's proposal. Other than press inquiries, we have received nothing." He declined to elaborate.

As for Truman's declaration that he is thinking of calling Congress back, Rep. Leonard W. Hall, of New York, said the President apparently is up to his old trick of mal-use for political purposes of his constitutional power to convene congress in special session.

Hall is chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, and his statement was distributed by the GOP national committee.

Error Is Made In Athlete Story

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter, which received a dispatch from Helsinki last night saying nine Hungarian Olympic athletes had refused to go back to their Red-ruled country from Finland, did not publish the story. It was found erroneous and discarded before the paper went to press.

However, the information in the dispatch from Dagens Nyheter's correspondent in Helsinki covering post Olympic doings, was relayed abroad and published in the United States as a Stockholm dispatch quoting the correspondent's report to his paper. Later dispatches sent from Stockholm and information from Helsinki reported his story could not be confirmed and was deemed erroneous.

Harry May Recall Congress in Special Session on Prices
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—President Truman said today he is considering whether to call a special session of Congress to try to halt food and upward price spiral.

He also told his first news conference in over a month that he would have supported Vice President Alben W. Barkley had the Kentuckian stayed in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination.

2. Never considered backing Wendell Herriman for the national ticket.

3. BELIEVES the Democrats picked the best man and a winner, in Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson. This was no reflection on the other contenders, he added.

4. Will discuss with Stevenson at a cabinet luncheon next Tuesday all possible steps to achieve party victory in November, including the President's own part in the campaign. Truman has said he is willing to get on the stump and range far and wide, but says he is now just a huck private. Stevenson has shown signs of not wanting to be too closely identified with the Truman administration.

As for Truman's declaration that he is thinking of calling Congress back, Rep. Leonard W. Hall, of New York, said the President apparently is up to his old trick of mal-use for political purposes of his constitutional power to convene congress in special session.

Hall is chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, and his statement was distributed by the GOP national committee.

Christmas Party Is Held By Women Methodists

The sound of nearly 100 voices singing "Silent Night," "Come All Ye Faithful," and "Jingle Bells" resounded last night through the little valley where Mrs. Earl O. Lloyd lives.

To the passerby it may have seemed that a Christmas party was in progress—and he would have been 100 percent correct!

In Summer clothing and with some clutching of their fans, members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist church held a party last night at the Lloyd home to celebrate the Christmas that will be en- rummage sale will be held Aug. 12. The members voted to hold a box luncheon Sept. 6 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hudson, Linfield. Mrs. McMonizal was named general chairman of the annual church supper to be held Nov. 1. The visitation committee reported to the Robinson school and on the visits made during the past kindergarten in Puerto Rico, and month to sick and shut-in members on Dec. 25 will be distributed to of the church.

DOZENS OF gifts were piled high around a pine tree by the members. These all will be sent in the near future to the Robinson school and on the visits made during the past kindergarten in Puerto Rico, and month to sick and shut-in members on Dec. 25 will be distributed to of the church.

Mrs. Clarence Pike told a story entitled, "Christmas in Puerto Rico," and the devotion, the theme of which was "Christmas," was led by Mrs. William Loud assisted by Mrs. Morris Swartwood and Mrs. Ivan Bortner.

Christmas carols were sung under the leadership of Mrs. Raymond McMonizal.

MRS. HENRY T. Schneider, president, conducted the brief business meeting, at which time the county fair to be sponsored by the group Dec. 5 and 6 in Fellowship Hall of the church, was discussed. Serving on the general committee are Mrs. Earl Lloyd and Miss Evelyn Rahn, co-chairmen, aided by Mrs. Douglas Hale, Mrs. Ralph Schlichter, Mrs. Vincent Elliott, Mrs. Daniel Pettigrew and Mrs. Schneider.

Christmas Spirit in Song Shown by Church Group

A group of members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist church sang old familiar Christmas carols with the same spirit and enthusiasm shown by everyone during the month of December. The group met at the home of Mrs. Earl Lloyd, Harmonyville road, last night to hold a Christmas party at which gifts were brought in to be sent to children in Puerto Rico.

New Decorative Fabrics Take Classical Themes

New fabrics emphasize the global theme. If you haven't been to Rome or Paris and have never seen the Sphinx or the ruins of the Parthenon, don't despair. You can have vivid portrayals of old-world scenes right in your home with new fabrics coordinated by Thomas F. Howard.

Nature lovers, particularly bird watchers, will be pleased also. Audubon hand prints suitable for framing as wall decorations or as coverings for cushions make their appearance on white or ivory chintz for background. These are faithful reproductions of colors used by the famous bird artist.

Kaleidoscopic views of Paris' famous buildings go to your windows. Available in decorator hues or any color combination.

T'was The 140th Night Before Xmas

Just as so many parents do before Christmas day, Mrs. Clarence Pike, (above, left), and Miss Evelyn Rahn prepare decorations for the Christmas tree and scenic base. They decorated the small tree last night at a Yuletide party staged by the Women's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist church at the home of Mrs. Earl Lloyd, Harmonyville road.

Vivien Kellems to Seek Republican Nomination

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 7.—Vivien Kellems, already an independent candidate of the six-year U. S. Senate term at stake in the Connecticut election this Fall, said today she will seek the Republican nomination for a four-year term. If she gets it, she will abandon her independent campaign, she told an interviewer. The death of Senator Brien McMahon (D) last week created a vacancy. This term had four years to run. Republicans will nominate a candidate to succeed him at a special convention September 4 and 5. Miss Kellems, operator of a small factory in nearby Stonington, is known throughout the country for her many speeches attacking the tax policies of the Democratic administration.

"Sumpin's Wrong! We've Been Tricked Boys!"

While the members of the WSCS of First Methodist church took Christmas in August in their stride, the three grandsons of the hostess, Mrs. Earl Lloyd, eyed the gifts placed around the tree with distrust and longing. Young Glenn, (left), seemed overcome with joy at the prospect of opening a gift, while Gregory, (center), and Jeffrey, (right), took the whole thing a bit more seriously. The gifts, however, were not to be opened by the youngsters, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hale. They will be sent to Puerto Rico for the pleasure of underprivileged children.

Summer is the time when every householder should have a medicine cabinet well-stocked with first aid supplies. The Pharmaceutical Council of Greater New York suggests a handy chart listing essentials to be pasted inside the door of the cabinet. Following are the basic contents recommended:
For bites or poison ivy: calamine lotion; for burns: petroleum jelly, gauze pads, bandages, adhesive tape; for cuts: tincture of iodine, hydrogen peroxide, efficient antiseptic, bandages, gauze pads and adhesive tape.
For eyes: eye wash, boric acid, for faintness: spirits of ammonia; for indigestion: sodium bicarbonate.
David Bleacher and Mr. Elliott Vaughan.

ate; for mouth care: dental floss, toothpaste, tongue depressors and mouth wash; for general use: cotton, cotton tipped swabs, witch hazel, rubbing alcohol and good soap.
It is suggested also that you list on the chart the phone number of your doctor and druggist.
Ask your friends to send you picture post cards of their travels. Paste and shellac these to an old screen for an interesting and useful conversation piece.
Some archeologists believe that, next to water, beer probably is the oldest thirst-quencher. Its recorded history alone goes back 6000 years.

Royersford Couple United At Double Ring Ceremony

A double ring ceremony performed recently in the Limerick Evangelical and Reformed church by the Rev. W. Reid Teitsworth, pastor, united in marriage Miss Mary Beth MacIntire and Mr. Robert W. Lightcap.

Miss MacIntire is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James MacIntire, Royersford RD 1, and Mr. Lightcap is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Lightcap, 270 Gay street, Royersford.

White gladioli and palms banked the altar as Mrs. Frank Miller, organist, gave a 15 minute recital. Patricia Major, cousin of the bride, was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white imported Chantilly lace and nylon net over taffeta gown, Lightcap wore a rose sheer dress featuring an illusion neckline with white accessories and a white gladioli corsage.

A reception for the many friends and relatives attending was held following the ceremony in the recreation room of the church. When the couple left for a wedding trip through Virginia, the new Mrs. Lightcap wore a blue Summer suit with white accessories and a corsage made from the asters and carnations in her bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Lightcap will be at home to their friends after the ceremony.

Mrs. Charles Cox, Royersford, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Betty McFarland, Royersford, served as bridesmaids and wore gowns styled identical to the honor attendants in pink. They also wore matching accessories and carried bouquets of white asters.

Niece of the bride, Cora Joan Swartzler, Linfield, was flower girl and wore a cute pink gown which matched the ones worn by the bridesmaids. Her bouquet also consisted of white asters.

Mr. Mark J. Lightcap acted as best man to his brother while Mr. Frank Miller and Mr. Harvey Undercoffler served as ushers.

MRS. MACINTIRE, mother of Sunday. They will reside at the home of the bride's parents. Guests attended the wedding from Royersford, Spring City, Pottstown, and Norristown. New Audience Entertained By Ex-Star of Broadway

By KATHERINE PINKHAM
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7. — Lois Moran Young, that fresh and lovely star of the musical satire "Of Thee I Sing" in its original doctile man over by the wall? He version, is lavishing her considerable talents these days on the strangest audience one is likely to see anywhere.

"The Shadow Men," they are called. They are war-wrecked nerves and minds are under treatment at Palo Alto Veterans hospital.

The Lois Young of today pours out as much vitality and charm to win one flickering smile from a deadened, mask-like face as it took to bring down the house in thunderous applause back in the depression doldrum days when "Of Thee I Sing" was making its record run at the Music Box in Manhattan.

THE REWARD is quite as great, Lois says. She doesn't expect young minds to believe this, but she is sure mature ones will.

The actress is now the attractive and contented wife of Pan-American Airways vice president, Clarence M. Young, proud mother of their 15 year old son, and busy manager of a handsome home on the San Francisco Peninsula.

Foremost these days on her list of activities, next to her family interests, comes her dance therapy class at the hospital.

Lois Moran was always young for her roles. She still seems young for this one. Her trim, tightly-knit little figure moves with the grace of the trained dancer she is. Her brown gold hair is cut in youthful, casual fashion; her sandaled feet are tiny beneath the flaring skirt of a bright striped cotton dress. She wears little makeup.

ALL SMILES and cheery greetings, she comes into the large, bare-floored room where about ten men are standing listlessly. They do not talk to each other, nor to a sprinkling of women volunteer workers on hand to help. Lois goes to every one, greeting him by name, joking, shaking hands, putting a friendly arm lightly about a drooping shoulder. A few mumble some sort of response, some none at all.

The phonograph starts a sprightly waltz. Lois is introducing a woman visitor to a mute, motionless patient. She takes both his hands gently and clasps them about the hand of the newcomer. He clings to the hand, strokes it, lightly a moment and then, curling up a sizeable fist, drops it, nestling into the woman's palm, as a baby might. His bleak expression never changes.

The music is louder now and the men are coaxed into a kind of kindergarten circle. Lois is leader, calling out directions. The circle moves half a dozen steps to right, then back to left, all holding hands. Some faces brighten a little. Now and then a man jerks his hand free and the circle must be mended.

THE MUSIC stops, and there is some hand-clapping. Lois persuades a gray-haired man to demonstrate "the box step he knows how to do so beautifully," with her as partner. Then everybody tries, partner style.

Some dance solemnly in good rhythm, as if soothed. Others look baffled, troubled. One dark-skinned Islander interpolates a cat-like leap high in the air at irregular intervals, laughing as he lands. A young medic (corrective therapist) stands in the background, watching.

The class lasts an hour. Lois has danced with everyone, has sung and coaxed and bullied the group into some degree of participation. A curl is damp at her temple, her cheeks are flushed, her skin glowing.

"OH, I know it seems depressing at first," she explains to a visitor afterwards. "But when you see the progress made, it's exciting. Did you notice those men I stopped to speak to on the way in? Every one of them is an ex-member of the

BEATRICE FAIRFAX'S

Advice to the Lovelorn Will Do Right by His Girl

Dear Miss Fairfax: I am in the Navy, and have a girl back home as most boys do. She is very pretty and I love her very much.

The problem is that she has just turned 15, and I don't know if this makes any difference. She writes to me almost every day and tells me she loves me and that she will wait for me forever. I have known this girl almost all my life, and have spent a lot of time with her, and the way she writes, you would think she wants to marry me, and I don't know whether it is right or not.

I would like for you to tell me if she knows what she is doing or if it is right for her to wait for one boy for so long. My age is 18.

Dear R. D. H.: I think you must be a very fine young man to be making such an effort to see and do what is best for this young girl.

It is very wise and right for you to question whether, at 15, she really knows just what she wants and whether or not she should tie herself up to waiting for you.

On the other hand, you have known her a long time, and it is perfectly true that many boys and girls, when they have been friends almost all their lives, form early attachments which last through the years and end in marriage.

What I think you should do is to let this girl keep right on writing to you and thinking of you, if she likes, as the man she will some day marry. At the same time, you could explain to her in your own way that she is very young, and that while both you and she believe yourselves in love, and you hope things may work out that way for you eventually, you want her to see other boys while you are away, and have good times with them, so she won't be lonely. If you make her understand that this is what you really want her to do, she probably will do it. After that, things can take their natural course, and time will show whether yours is one of those boy and girl attachments which really last, or whether she falls for someone else.

I can see that you are the thoughtful type of boy who would make her a fine husband if things came out as you wish, but who would understand and accept it if they worked out differently.

A SITUATION THAT SHOULD NOT BE ALLOWED TO CONTINUE

Dear Miss Fairfax: My sister has been going steady with a boy for three months and now he has begun to think that he can do whatever he wants to anybody. He has a sister who was sent to reform school and he seems to think that I might be like her. I don't see why he should think any such thing, because I am only 13 of the way whenever this boy is in the house. It is all wrong that you should have to do such a thing in your own home, but if you can't get anyone to stand up for you and put this boy in his place, I'm afraid that's about all you can do.

Dear B. C. D.: This is a ridiculous situation, and I don't see why he does. I have asked my sister to speak to him about all this, and I have discussed it with my parents, but nothing seems to come of it. Could you please tell me what I can do about it? He is 17 years old.

BIGOTRY IS HIT BY EISENHOWER

Presidential Nominee Rejects Appeals to Prejudice in Campaigns

DENVER, Aug. 7 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today denounced appeals to prejudice and bigotry in political campaigns. He said "those are the tactics of the Communists."

The Republican presidential nominee made the statement in expressing wholehearted approval of a resolution calling on all GOP candidates for public office to:

1. Reject political arguments and appeals based on religious or racial prejudices.

2. Censure attempts "to subvert the American tradition" through such appeals.

THE RESOLUTION was adopted by the Minnesota GOP State Executive committee, which also urged Eisenhower to endorse it. A copy of the resolution was presented to the General today by Mrs. Elizabeth Heffelfinger, Republican National committeewoman from Minnesota.

After conferring with Eisenhower, Mrs. Heffelfinger told reporters her state has been "flooded" with anti-Semitic literature attacking both Eisenhower and President Truman. She called it un-American.

The Minnesota resolution said further that "we must demonstrate to the world that in our Republic men and women of all races, creeds and national origins do participate in our government as free and equal brothers under God."

Shortly after talking with Mrs. Heffelfinger, Eisenhower put out a statement:

"I agree wholeheartedly with the resolution adopted by the Minnesota Republican State Executive committee.

"AS FAR as I am concerned, the principles outlined in the resolution have been a part of my belief throughout my life. They are what I have always believed; what I have always fought for.

"Appeals to prejudice and bigotry have no place in America. Those were the tactics of the Nazis and the Fascists. That was why the freedom-loving people of the world destroyed them. Those are the tactics of the Communists today."

Mrs. Heffelfinger also said she told Eisenhower he will have to speak out on farm problems during the campaign if he wants to carry the farm belt states in the November election.

She said she had stressed to the general that the farmers of Minnesota are anxious to have specific answers on farm matters.

Mrs. Heffelfinger said that in 1948 Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, then Republican presidential nominee, had talked about such things as Social Security when he visited Minnesota, and that the farmers were disappointed.

She said she found Eisenhower "most interested in the farmers' problems," and she predicted he will have much to say on that subject.

Mrs. Heffelfinger invited the general to make a farm policy speech Sept. 24 at a Turkey Day festival in Worthington, Minn. She added that he expressed interest, but said he would have to decide later on whether to attend.

Addled Gunman Shoots Teen-Aged Girl, Wounds Her Escort, Then Takes Own Life

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (AP)—The twisted past of an addled gunman was traced today from police and Army files after he killed a teenaged girl, wounded her escort and then took his own life in Grant park Wednesday.

The girl victim was Patricia Kahler, 17, of Chicago. Her escort, Herbert A. Hoffman, 17, was critically wounded. Their assailant was identified as Bernard August Richardson, 32, a native of Maricopa, La.

Richardson dashed from a clump of bushes, shouted "I love Sally," and pumped two bullets into Miss Kahler's head. He shot Hoffman, who fled. Then, after embracing the dying girl, he turned his pistol on himself.

Homicide investigators found nothing to indicate that Richardson had ever seen his victims before the shooting. Nor could they make sense of incoherent love notes found in his pockets.

THEY LEARNED that Richardson had served in the Army during World War Two. He had a record, since 1944, of arrests for carrying concealed weapons, loitering, and contributing to the delinquency of minors.

After he was arrested Oct. 2 the past year at Erie, Pa., for attempting to choke a 15-year-old girl, he was sent to a mental hospital, then transferred to the Veterans administration hospital at Gulfport, Miss.

In one of his pockets, police found a hotel receipt issued recently to an R. Walker by the Griswold hotel, Detroit.

One note found on Richardson's body mentioned a Carol Hoffman, and an address was written in a Chicago street guide—the address of a Carol Hoffman, 17, of Chicago.

Miss Hoffman, who is not related to the wounded youth, was taken to the Cook county morgue to view Richardson's body. She said she had never seen him in her life.

Police Capt. Jerome McCarthy said Richardson was released from the Gulfport hospital July 7.

Another Democratic senator, O'Connor of Maryland, announced that he was asking the Department of Justice to make certain that no injustice was being done the man, Carl L. Latva, of Wendell, N. H.

Latva, born in Finland 49 years ago, says he signed a Communist party membership card in 1934 because "they told me they wanted to win a strike in which I was involved." He said he paid a fee of 50 cents and an additional ten cents a month for four months and "never heard from them again."

FEDERAL JUDGE Charles E. Wyzanski Jr., of Boston, ruled "with reluctance" yesterday that Latva must be deported to Finland under terms of the anti-subversives act sponsored by Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) and passed over President Truman's veto in 1950.

Latva, whose two sons served in the Navy in World War II, filed in 1941 a declaration of intent to become a citizen. Eight years later he filed a petition for citizenship; it is still pending.

gested to the general that he make a farm policy address at a Harvest Jubilee to be held at Shenandoah, Iowa, this Fall.

Yanks Split Doubleheader With Sens

Brooklyn Gains Even Break With New York

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Bob Kuzava limited Washington to four hits to capture his sixth decision as the New York Yankees defeated the Senators, 7-1, in the second game of a double-header today after Washington won the first game, 4-2.

The Yankees blasted Don Johnson for a 5-0 lead in the first three innings of the second game and increased it to 7-0 against Randy Gumpert in the fifth inning when Gene Woodling slammed his ninth homer after Yogi Berra walked.

Julia Moreno survived a 12-hit attack in the first game to post his first victory over the Yankees in a three-year major league career.

Jim McDonald went the distance for the Yankees in the opener.

The split enabled the Yankees to retain their three-game lead over second place Cleveland.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—Brooklyn piled up a wide early lead on homers by Roy Campanella, Billy Cox and Jackie Robinson tonight and fought off a New York Giant rally to win, 7-5, for an even break in their day-night doubleheader, restoring their 5½ game lead. The Giants took the day game, 8-2, on a 12-hit attack.

Campanella almost ruined Leo Durocher Night before it started when he hit a grand slam home run in the first inning after George Spencer loaded the bases on singles by Cox and Pee Wee Reese and an intentional walk to Robinson.

Held to one hit in the first four innings, the Giants knocked out Ben Wade in the fifth scoring five runs.

Durocher used six pitchers as he paraded pinchhitters to the plate in an attempt to close the gap.

Hank Thompson, Dark and Williams led the Giants' afternoon attack on loser Carl Erskine and two successors.

Gus Zernial Blasts 2, A's, Red Sox Divide

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 7 (AP)—The third place Boston Red Sox held their own in the American League pennant race today by splitting with the Philadelphia Athletics, winning the second game 8 to 4 after the A's grabbed the opener 7 to 5.

Veteran Al Benton turned in a brilliant relief job in winning the second game, his first decision of A's to two hits in the last 42½ innings after starter Willard Nixon and his relief.

Ralph Brinkner, almost blew a seven-run lead.

The Boston win broke the Red Sox three-game losing streak and kept them five games in back of the league leader, the New York Yankees, who divided today with the Washington Senators.

Starter Harry Brecheen received credit for the victory in the opener but he needed help from Bob Hooper when the Red Sox rallied for three runs in the eighth inning.

Eddie Joost hit a homer in the first while big Gus Zernial contributed two—his 20th and 21st of the season—to bat in five of the Philadelphia runs.

Browns Again Beat Detroit In 12th, 5-4

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 7 (AP)—Gordon Goldsberry's double, scoring Jim Dyck, gave the St. Louis Browns a 5 to 4 victory over the Detroit Tigers tonight—their second straight 12-inning, one-run triumph.

Hal White, who lost last night, also got this defeat, both times in a relief job.

Gene Bearden and Bill Wright had gone through 10 innings of a tight hurling duel, but each gave way to relief hurlers in the extra innings. Dave Madison was the winning hurler.

Bearden allowed only five hits and three runs until Detroit took the lead in the 11th inning as Walt Drope scored Johnny Groth with a double. Earl Harritt then came in and got the side out.

Roberts, who now has won his last six starts, limited the Braves to one hit until the eighth, when George Crowe's double and Earl Torgerson's pinch-hit single enabled the Braves to escape a shutout.

The Phils backed Roberts with a seven-hit attack against Vern Bickford. In the sixth, Johnny

Sharp Note Wins Bargain Colt Surprises In Hambletonian Stake

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 7 (AP)—Sharp Note, a $1000 bargain colt, was driven to a smashing victory in the $87,637.55 Hambletonian Stake today by a 74-year-old vet-drove Rodney to victory in the era of the Spanish American War.

Bi Shively thus became the oldest man to drive a Hambletonian victor, as he took the second and third heats of the famous trotting derby for C. W. Clark, a Dearborn, Mich., tool and die manufacturer.

The winner, a bay three-year-old son of Photograph-Rosemary Hanover by Gay McKinney, thrashed 15 of the best sophomore trotters in the world, including Duke of Lullwater, the 1951 two-year-old champion and favorite to win this big harness event.

In fact, Duke of Lullwater, owned by Walter T. Candler of Decatur, Ga., did no better than third money, as the Goshen jinx continued to hang over him. He has never won a race here, but has been unbeatable at other tracks.

HIT SONG, owned by L. B. Sheppard of Hanover, Pa., and the Arden Homestead stable of E. R. Harriman and E. T. Gerry, won the opening heat, with the Duke second. Sharp Note broke stride in that heat and finished tenth. But he was the boss from then on.

In the overall finish, Hit Song was second.

Cards Down Reds as Old Pros Shine

CINCINNATI, Aug. 7 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals combined Mike Clark's tight relief hurling and some lousy slugging tonight to take a 7 to 4 decision from the Cincinnati Reds. Clark came on in the third inning to relieve Harry Brecheen after the Reds had scored four runs and held them scoreless the rest of the way.

It was the rookie Clark's first major league pitching victory.

Red Schoendienst, Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter led a Card attack that produced 12 hits and seven runs—all in the first six innings—off starter Harry Perkowski and Frank Smith. The defeat broke a four-game winning streak by Perkowski.

Singles by Schoendienst and Musial, Slaughter's triple and a long fly gave the Cards three quick runs off Perkowski in the opening inning. They added three more in the fifth and the final tally—Dick Sisler's home run—in the sixth after the Reds had driven Brecheen to the showers in their own third inning outburst.

Ron Necciai Ready to Go

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7 (AP)—A tall, skinny lad who had to crouch to get out of the airplane without bumping his head arrived here tonight to begin his major league career, said he didn't know if he was in Pittsburgh to stay but declared: "I'm going to give it a helluva try."

Ron Necciai, right hand strikeout sensation of the minor leagues, is slated to put on a Pittsburgh Pirate uniform tomorrow. If everything goes according to plan the 20-year-old 6-foot, 5-inch hurler will make his first start against the Chicago Cubs here Sunday.

Necciai was called up by the Pirates from the Burlington Northern Baseball League to use Graham club of the Class B Carolina League where he had a 7-9 record with a last place club.

Rams Battle Navy

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 7 (AP)—Two U. S. Navy football teams will take turns against the professional Los Angeles Rams in a pre-season exhibition here tomorrow night. The San Diego Naval Training center will provide first half opposition for the professionals. The San Diego Naval Air station will take them on the second half.

A Royal League

Queen Juliana has authorized the Netherlands Baseball League to use the prefix "Royal," thereby giving line league where he had a 7-9 record recognition to the sport.

Shantz Joins Baseball's 'Tiny' Greats

The mighty mite of the mound—Bobby Shantz of the Athletics—has been grabbing the sports page headlines this year. But down through the years many diminutive performers have cut their niches on major league diamonds. They have proved that a good little man can be successful in a "big man's game."

In perusing the record books the names of many little guys are prominent.

The Waner Brothers, Lloyd and Paul, were both under five feet eight inches. They played most of their 20 big league years with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Paul's best average was .350 in 1927. Lloyd's best mark was .355 in the same year.

Walter (Rabbit) Marraville tipped the scale at 155 pounds and was a mere 5 feet 5½ inches tall. Yet Rabbit was one of the greatest fielding shortstops in the game. He started in the majors with the Braves in 1912 and ended his career with the same club in 1933. In between he played for the Pirates, Cubs, Dodgers and Cardinals.

PAUL WANER
Pirates Big Poison

Andy High (5-6½) played 12 years in the National League and once hit .328 for the Dodgers.

Hughie Critz (5-7) also played 12 years in the same league. His chores were for the Reds and Giants.

Dom Dilessandro (5-6) started with the Red Sox and then spent seven years with the Cubs. His best mark was .305 in 1914.

Catcher Frank Pytlak, who played nine years for the Indians and three under the Red Sox banner, was 5-7.

Lee (Jeep) Handley, the infielder who played for the Reds, Pirates and Phils, was also a mere 5-7.

Roberto Estellella, (5-6) played nine years in the American League with the Senators.

Browns and A's. Emmett Mueller, also at 5-6, put in four years with the Phils.

Harold (Rabbit) Warstler, at 5-7½, played in both leagues from 1920 to 1927. He was with the Philadelphia and Boston clubs in each league.

Eddie Lake (5-7) played the infield for the Cards, Red Sox and Tigers for 10 years.

Of the active performers to day, excepting Shantz, Phil Rizzuto of the Yankees is the best little man. L'il Phil has been shortstopping for the Yankees since 1941. When he stretches out to his full size he is a gigantic 5-6. Rookie Clem Kushorek of the Pirates is only 5-6.

There are, of course, many players in the 5-6 and up category but these are giants in comparison to the pint-sized performers.

Two Low Income Pros Lead Rich World Tourney

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (AP)—Low Worsham and Pete Cooper, a couple of club pros in tournament golf's low income bracket, whacked seven-under-par 65's to pace a par-rocking first round today in the $90,000 "world championship of golf."

The scent of a $25,000 first prize, greatest in the game's history, inspired Worsham, 1947 U. S. Open champion 29th in 1952 money-winning, and Cooper, 49th in cash-collecting to fire identical rounds of 32-33.

Two strokes behind at 67 were Roberto De Vicenzo, talented Argentine shooter from Buenos Aires, and still another club pro, Harry Todd, the big family man from Dallas, Tex.

After that the scoring traffic became thick at gaily-decorated Tam O'Shanter course where more than 12,000 golf devotees turned out. Five players were knotted at 68, three strokes off the pace, including 1952 Open champion Julius Boros, Dave Douglas, Earl Stewart Jr., Jim Ferrier and another of the 19 foreign entries, Mario Gonzales of Rio De Janeiro, Brazil.

Seven were deadlocked at 69, among them Jack Burke, Johnny Bulla, Ed Furgol, Doug Ford, John Barnum, Ed Oliver and Canadian Stan Leonard.

In all, 28 of the 80-player field broke Tam's 36-36-72 par. Notched at 71 was the pre-meet favorite, All-American champion Sammy Sneed, who was unable to swallow a big seven on the second hole when he splashed into the creek.

Elks, Bethany Win In Knee-Hi League

The Elks and Bethany both hung up nine-run victories last night in keeping up their first-division standings in the Knee-Hi league.

The Elks bounced out 15 hits off the offerings of Kenilworth chucker John Huy, and pinned a 9-0 defeat on the host nine as Jan Fritz hurled a one-hitter. Bethany, behind the three-hit chucking of Cubit Ricketts, downed Bermans, 11-2, at the Far fields.

Larry Spohn with two singles and a double and Joe Skarbeck, two doubles, paced the Elks. Bob Ketchner was the lone Kenilworth batter to solve Fritz for a bingle, rapping a single off the third base bag in the fifth inning that bounded up and gave third sacker Jim Wentzel a black eye to boot.

While Ricketts was setting down Bermans, his mates went out and got a 6-0 bulge after two. Stan Hallman and Bill Reider were the big cogs in the attack with four and three singles, respectively.

Al DeNico took the loss, giving up 14 hits. Both of the night's winning pitchers, Ricketts and Fritz, whiffed 10 batters each.

Rex, Ezzard Box Tonight

OGDEN, Utah, Aug. 7 (AP)—Rex Layne, the young Utah heavyweight who hit the fistic skids two years ago, will attempt to power his way back into the national fight picture in a 10-round go against ex-world champ Ezzard Charles tomorrow night.

Promoter Ken Mayne said 25,000 fans will pay up to $200,000 to be on hand for the 11:45 p. m. (Pottstown time) main event in Ogden Stadium. Each fighter will pocket 35 percent of the gate for the outdoor show which is by far the biggest boxing attraction ever scheduled in Utah.

There will be no radio or television coverage and in case of rain the fight will be delayed until Saturday night. Utahans from Gov. J. Bracken Lee on down are calling the fight a championship event. Lee, when he witnessed the formal signing, pointed out that both Layne and Charles hold decisions over the present heavyweight champion, Jersey Joe Walcott. And Mayne plans to present a belt to the winner as the "unowned champion of the world."

The 24-year-old Layne rates as a 6-5 edge over the Cincinnati Negro who knocked him out last October in the 11th round.

Spirit of the Old West Has Got 'Em

Boys and girls at Hillcrest playground were ready for action with their shootin' irons and bows and arrows yesterday at the playground's cowboy show. Cowboys searched the recreation area for an Indian reported on the "old homestead." Four-year-old Mike Buchert (left) peeks around a "boulder" but there "ain't no injun there." In the next picture, Randy Neiman, 5, continues the search with a six-shooter in each hand. But leave it to a woman to set her man: Carol Lynn Neiman, 6, trains her colt-45 on Chief Ronnie Tirpak, 5, in the "forest" at Hillcrest. (Story on Page 1.)

'Darkness and Age' Halt Optimists' Game With Juniors at 7-7

"If you were to ask players on the Junior Optimists' baseball team about their game with the Optimist fathers last night on The Hill's Far Field they probably would tell you with a chuckle that the game was called conveniently when the youngsters came from behind to tie the adults 7-7.

Club Publicist Roland T. Brauch claimed the game was called "because of darkness and age," the age of the fathers, that is.

"We did all right hitting them," Brauch said, "but nobody wanted to run after hitting them. . . . It was the bending over for the grounders that really got us."

After the game, in which all the 19 Optimists present played at one time or another and which the boys' coach, Duncan Hunsberger, umpired while his aides, Bruce Lessig and Warren Umstead played on the younger team, the 70 Optimist Junior Optimists and their relatives at the game drove to Kenilworth Memorial park for a doggie roast.

There Hunsberger announced the Philadelphia Athletics had sent passes for the Athletics' game with the Cleveland Indians Aug. 25. The Junior Optimists, the Kenilworth-Knee-Hi baseball team and members of the club will drive to the game.

Charges Fly in 'War of Roses'

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—Eleanor Holm Rose today accused Billy Rose of falsely smearing her reputation to defend his own "immoral position."

It was her answer to roundabout charges that she acted immorally in the New York apartment of Mrs. Dorothy Bernie, widow of radio's "old maestro," Ben Bernie.

Said Mrs. Rose, one-time glamorous swimming star: "All who know Mr. Rose and me well know who is making false charges and trying to defend an immoral position by hurrying abuse at an innocent party."

She called the banian Broadway producer a tightwad and said that's the reason they can't get together peacefully to end their 13-year-old marriage.

ROSE'S ONLY reply to her three-page statement referred to her lawyer Louis Nizer said: "Mr. Nizer in his statement studiously avoids the $84 question: Is he prepared to settle this matter across the table on a legal basis or does he intend to persist in his trial by terror?"

The latest skirmish in the war of the Roses was touched off Tuesday when Mrs. Bernie placed a criminal libel charge against Rose in California.

She charged that he had shown an affidavit from her former New York maid, Alberta Jones, the document purported to describe immoral goings-on in Mrs. Bernie's apartment.

ROSE DESCRIBED himself as stunned and bewildered that contents of the affidavit became public. He said he made every effort to keep it secret and didn't plan to use it in his pending court clash with Eleanor.

Rose called Mrs. Bernie's libel action as another move in what he has described as Eleanor's "trial by terror" tactics.

In reply, Mrs. Rose called the affidavit false and added: "His present offer not to use this fraudulent affidavit, which has already been filed and committed to all sorts of people, is like the act of a man who shoots somebody and then is willing to throw away the gun."

MRS. ROSE SAID Billy has been showing around two affidavits which besmirched her reputation. "On my motion for alimony in the supreme court," she went on, "I challenged him to produce these false affidavits in court—and he did not have them."

Rebellious Africa Tribe Marched on by Police

DURBAN, South Africa, Aug. 7 (AP)—A strongly armed force of 300 police marched today on a rebellious tribe of Africans at Mt. Andalala, in Pondoland.

Authorities said the tribesmen refused to give up two natives charged with obstructing a native commissioner in the course of his duties and threatened to kill any police sent into the remote district of South Africa's wild East coast. The tribe numbers between 2000 and 4000 men.

Bowen Is Candidate For ABC Governor

Joe L. Bowen, secretary of the Pottstown American Business club, will announce his candidacy for the Pennsylvania District governorship of the organization at the Seventh district's annual outing next Wednesday in Allentown.

The Seventh district comprises Pennsylvania and New Jersey and a governor represents each state.

The real estate broker's intention to run for the office was announced at the local club's weekly dinner meeting in the Elks' home last night at which 31 members dined on sea food and laid plans for a tureen supper at Kenilworth Memorial park at 6:30 p.m. Aug. 21.

Each member and his family will be expected to bring their own side dishes. The club will furnish the main dish, baked ham.

On the supper committee are Russell Keim, Chester Bechtel, Willard Grow, Harry Hartenstein, George Longacre, Bernard Lezen-sky and Irvin Hutt Jr.

REPUBLICANS TO MEET

HARRISBURG, Aug. 7 (AP)—The 113-member Republican State committee will meet in Pittsburgh Sept. 6 to map plans for the coming presidential campaign in Pennsylvania.

20 Members Installed By Phillies Firemen

Twenty persons were elected to membership in the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company at the unit's monthly meeting last night. Fifty members attended the brief meeting, at which Henry G. Schmoeyer presided.

Charles Burton in 1848 made the first baby carriage, followed by protests from pedestrians because people wheeling the contraptions ran into them. Burton moved to England and opened a factory.

After the B-29s Paid a Call

This is all that remained of the Oriental Light Metals main plant in North Korea after 63 U. S. B-29 bombers staged the largest air strike of the war against a single target. Air Force officials estimated 90 percent destruction by 1,200,000 pounds of high explosives. Three large buildings in center were badly damaged. Long rows of warehouses at top and bottom of picture as well as numerous smaller structures to right of large buildings, have disappeared.

Rhee Looks Ahead to 2d Term

SEOUL, Korea, Friday, Aug. 8 (AP)—Syngman Rhee looked ahead to his second term as war-torn South Korea's president today and saw no hope of peace "until the Soviet Union is fully convinced it cannot defeat the free nations."

Rhee told newsmen he "never had any hope and have none now" that the year-long truce negotiations will result in an armistice.

In a colorful ceremony at the Eighth Army compound here, Rhee pinned a South Korean decoration on the tunic of Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, and read a citation praising UN forces for "outstanding performance" in the interests of freedom.

Van Fleet told Rhee "you have helped to make our job easier in every possible fashion."

THE EIGHTH Army commander praised the South Korean Army and added: "We have stood shoulder to shoulder to defeat this international Communist devil."

The 77-year-old Rhee, who this week scored an overwhelming victory over three political opponents in South Korea's first popular presidential election, told newsmen he did not seek a second term.

"I have to surrender my personal desires and obey the mandate of the people," he added. "It has not been an easy task the last four years. I do not believe it will be an easier task in the coming four years."

Rhee said that before his second term ends he hopes that the United Nations "will be able to defeat and drive out our (Chinese) Communist enemy. They have no business to be here and the sooner they realize it the better it will be for all of us."

UNOFFICIAL RETURNS from all of South Korea's 163 precincts today gave Rhee 5,247,383 votes, while his three opponents polled a total of only 1,801,199 votes.

The winner among nine vice presidential candidates, Ham Tai Yung, had 2,787,814 votes, more than a million more than his nearest competitor, Lee Bum Suk.

Government officials in Pusan said returns have been completed on the basis of police reports and the tally is neither full nor complete. Official results will be announced next Wednesday.

NEARLY 400 employees of Bethlehem Steel company's Pottstown plant on salary or incentive rates got a boost yesterday.

E. G. Grace, chairman of the company's board, announced that salary and incentive rates of employees earning less than $1250 per month will be increased 10 percent.

There will be a minimum salary increase of $22 per month (based on a 40-hour week). The increase will be retroactive to the past March 1.

The compensation of employees paid more than $1250 per month will be considered on an individual basis.

Life is not so short but that there is always time enough for courtesy.

Come In, Lower Pottsgrove

THERE may have been bad news for Limerick in the announcement that Lower Pottsgrove voted against school consolidation.

But there was good news for Pottstown in the action.

For instance, the Sanatoga school children who advance to junior high and senior high grade still will come to Pottstown's schools.

School children, of course, will benefit from the ability of Pottstown to go out and hire the best.

But we think there's another benefit that may accrue to Pottstown. The refusal of Sanatoga to join with Limerick leaves the way open for the eventual annexation of Lower Pottsgrove to Pottstown.

Sanatoga belongs in the Pottstown fold. There's no natural line of separation, like a river or mountains. And the people are of the same stock, with the same desires and ambitions.

If Sanatoga joined with Pottstown it would obtain many services now lacking in the township, such as municipal garbage collection, sewers, street lights, modern water service, police protection, and better fire protection.

Lower Pottsgrove could obtain these services cheaply. In fact, Lower Pottsgrove residents might eliminate many headaches, and high taxes to come if they join the great municipality of Pottstown.

Sanatoga should be included in the great metropolitan Pottstown area. Some day residents there may see the advisability of joining the borough—or the city of Pottstown, which isn't too far in the offing.

Why not now?

Not Good Enough

IF the Administration has its way, the Federal government will spend $85,400,000,000 of our money this year. The Treasury anticipates an income of $71,000,000,000 which would leave a deficit of $14,400,000,000.

Even that picture is probably over bright—the joint Congressional committee on internal revenue taxation believes that the Treasury's revenue estimates are "too high by about $4,000,000,000."

Luckily for the present and future strength and security of this country, Congress seems to be finally opening its eyes to the fact that the budget can be cut—and must be cut.

Many requested appropriations have been sharply pared, and more reductions are in prospect.

All in all, it looks as if Congress will reduce the President's budget by a total of something like $9,900,000,000.

This is good news—but it isn't good enough. A great many experts on government administration and policy are convinced that, so far, Congress has only dealt with some of the more flagrant wastes and extravagances. They are convinced that many more billions can be saved without impairing any necessary government activity—including an adequate national defense and a reasonable amount of foreign aid.

The ordinary American family is undoubtedly giving more thought to the tax burden than it ever did in the past.

That family must contribute about $1500 a year to meet the current tax bill.

It is the people of modest means who must carry most of the load now—for the rich have long been taxed to the point of confiscation.

Be Whole to Stay Whole

THERE was something wrong physically with one out of every 15 drivers involved in the country's 32,300 fatal motor vehicle accidents last year.

Three-fifths of these defects were listed as fatigue and sleeping while driving.

One out of every nine pedestrians killed by motor vehicles had some physical defect.

Defective eyesight was reported in more than one-fourth of these cases, defective hearing in one-tenth, and illness or other bodily defects in the remaining three-fifths.

If you have a defect, be sure it doesn't interfere with your driving. The life you save may be your own.

Wal, I guess we've seen everything now. They put chlorophyll in tooth paste, in dog's food, and even in inner-soles to keep your feet sweet.

But not until today did I see chlorophyll used in newspapers till The Mercury used that stuff!

When it comes to unemployment insurance, ex-King Farouk certainly knows his stuff. He has 100 million dollars stashed away in foreign lands.

And say, a Kansas man just past 100 years says he got that way downing a bottle of beer a day. Ale and hearty!

Hopin' you all the same.

Board Won't Act

To the Editor: After I read Mr. Selby's story in Wednesday's Mercury about the hearing for the school teacher, I just had to sit down and write to you, to let off steam.

It's so obvious that the Douglass township school board is protecting their teacher, it makes me sick.

Just look what Mr. (John J.) Duseo said: "We have some children who should be in reform school, and their parents should be horsewhipped."

Imagine, in this day and age, saying things like that.

It's the township school board that ought to be horsewhipped, and maybe put in jail too.

The people in Douglass township ought to call on the State authorities to help them get rid of this teacher and clean out the entire school board.

I'm writing this before the hearing has ended, but I am willing to bet a month's pay that the board will whitewash that teacher and merely condemn the parents for trying to protect their children.

To the Editor: In reply to the letter signed "Worried" (Renters Need Help), Readers Say, Aug. 5, let me say there are a great many other worried people in and around Pottstown who see the end of rent control staring them in the face and don't know what to do about it.

Times are difficult enough for the average family, caught between rising living costs and steadily increasing government taxes.

But at least, we've never had to worry too much about our rent going up. Now, with rent controls about to end in a month or two, there will be nothing at all to keep our landlord from doubling or even tripling our rent if he wants to.

If we don't like it, he can tell us, we can find another place to live.

Dig Him!

To the Editor: Now that Johnny Ray has stopped crying and begun to sing happy songs, I wonder what the local lovers of tasteless sounds will turn to next.

It seems you can't make a buck anymore as a singer unless you've got a pocket echo chamber to sing into and scare all the kids to death.

On the other hand, all the squares with no taste or conception of creativeness go around putting down anything they can't hum (or howl) after hearing it once—anything they have to think to understand.

Incidentally, how did this supposedly-civilized village ever deteriorate into a hillbilly haven?

WASHINGTON

Stevenson Discourages

Support From Truman

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The Stevenson camp's near-panic over Harry S. Truman's active participation in the campaign has been aggravated by word that the President insists on devoting his proposed "whistle stop" tour to a defense of his foreign policy from Yalta to the current "police action" in Korea.

Whereas Truman regards his achievement in this field as his most prized accomplishment—the "preservation of world peace through collective security," as he describes the results—the new leader and nominee cannot afford to accept full responsibility for Truman-Acheson objectives and methods in Europe, the Far East and elsewhere.

Stevenson has said that mistakes must be admitted frankly, and he applies this to the conduct of international relations, although he generally favors the basic purposes.

But he recognizes that a barnstorming Truman, determined to defend postwar concessions to Russia, Acheson's invitation to the Reds to attack Korea and our European allies' current failure to fulfill defense commitments without further American aid, would open a Pandora's box of embarrassments.

ANATHEMA: Such a Truman campaign would raise two ghosts whom every Democratic strategist would like to forget forever—Dean Acheson, Secretary of State, and Alger Hiss, convicted for perjury, although his real crime was slipping secrets to Moscow agents while occupying a confidential State Department post.

Acheson is regarded as such a political liability that not a single Democratic speaker, including Truman and Stevenson, mentioned his name at the Chicago convention.

He is anathema in the great mid-western states where the Democratic candidate is counted on to show the strength he did when he swept Illinois by 572,000 votes in 1948—Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, etc. He is equally unpopular in the northeastern areas.

A Truman loose on the stump on this issue will enable GOP speakers, especially Senator Nixon, the vice-presidential nominee, to recall Acheson's remark that "I will not turn my back on Alger Hiss."

It will revive suggestions about the Stevenson affidavit testifying to the traitor's good reputation when they worked together in Agriculture and State.

"CAPTIVE." Other considerations lie behind Stevenson's delay and reluctance in accepting Truman's offer. An extremely practical item is that a Truman train, with the price for radio and television time, would cost money the party may not be able to afford. Truman has become a high liver since he entered the White House.

Despite Stevenson's middle-of-the-road attitude, and his complete contrast with the man in the White House, he is to be depicted as a "Truman stooge," as Ike will be characterized as a "Wall Street entry."

The Republicans' strategy would be to advertise Truman instead of Stevenson. They would direct their offensive against the President, as the Democrats have been running against Herbert Hoover for twenty years. Whenever Truman made one of his ultra-partisan, rip-roaring and extravagant statements, the GOP would ask Stevenson if he agreed with his chief campaigner's views.

Stevenson has done everything possible to ask Truman to "lay off." He says he himself is not a "rip roaring" whistle stop kind of candidate. He will maintain headquarters at Springfield, instead of Washington in order to escape from the shadow.

He has named Wilson Wyatt as his personal campaign manager, and the Louisville man is no great admirer of the White House crowd, which bombarded him with demands for political favors when he was Federal Housing Expediter. He has indicated that he will replace Frank E. McKinney, Truman's hand-picked choice, as National Chairman.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

VIRGINIA W., 44, was brought to my office by her husband. "Dr. Crane, I am in an awful state of depression," she announced in a panicky voice.

"Loving doesn't seem worth while. Things don't look or taste or sound the way they used to."

"I don't feel like myself at all. Sometimes I wonder if I'm not somebody else. I get so depressed and then cry all day. My husband is growing tired of it, but I can't help myself."

"I am living in a dream world. My mind is a blank. I can't remember things. Dr. Crane, will I ever get better?"

You readers are familiar with hypochondriacs, who worry excessively about their liver or gall bladder or kidneys or blood pressure, etc.

Well, Virginia is simply a hypochondriac at the mental level. She has been paying so much attention to her attitudes and sensations that she is going around in circles.

She has a great deal of company, though, for thousands of men and women of all ages begin to fret about their minds at the point where they actually act peculiar.

They aren't insane, however, but are certainly mental hypochondriacs. Virginia's trouble is also associated with the menopause.

She believes the fallacious idea that women lose their physical sexual charm when their uterus ceases functioning.

YOU DON'T NEED to be a menopausal case, however, to blossom out with this whole set of symptoms.

All you need do is begin wondering about your mind or your personality. Then you may figuratively tie yourself up in mental knots until you aimlessly go around in circles, hemoaning your unhappy lot in life.

Virginia is too self-centered. She is focusing her thoughts on herself.

She thinks she has lost her attractiveness to her husband, so she feels ostracized from life.

She is thus afraid she is on the shelf. That she is a nobody.

She then begins to imagine that the world looks or tastes or sounds different, for she actually wants to be pronounced a medical case in order to have a doctor side with her.

"My husband is getting tired of it," she states, "but I can't help myself."

That sentence is the crux of her dilemma. It also explains this same phenomenon in younger women, even 18 to 25 years of age. They think they have lost their "it" or sex appeal.

Turn your attention off self and deliberately direct it upon external people or problems.

CAN THEY EXPLAIN IT?

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 7.—Bette Davis and Sterling Hayden go before cameras tomorrow in "The Star." Gerald Mohr isn't the third topper in this one for a fascinating reason! A reason that will zoom his already-zooming career even more.

Producer Bert Friedlob says Mohr was just too darned attractive for the role's requirements. Yvonne de Carlo is sporting a gold and diamond charm bracelet gifted by Howard Hughes.

It says here. Mebbe her press-agent is dreaming overtime. (If Howard's handing out such knick-knacks, we have a very good idea who'd be getting 'em. And she ain't Yvonne!)

David Niven has his Fall and Winter work cut out for him. Most likely to do the movie of "The Moon Is Blue," along with Scott Brady, and Niv starts the first of his filmed TV series next month. He'll be the video version of "The Saint."

THE HUGE party the Al Bloomingtons threw last night, is the talk of the town today. They patterned it after the weird backgrounds (and characters) of the famed Charles Addams cartoon.

And had the perfect setting for it by borrowing the enormous and completely empty house Tom Mays had just moved out of. The black-clothed tables around the ball-room floor were the only furnishings in the place. Tar paper covered the windows, candles (but not many) lighted the house; white-faced zals in black, wearing black lipstick, acted as check-room girls and escorted people through the mansion.

Bathubs had been provided with cobwebs; half-opened closet doors sported protruding "arms" or hands;—and there were lots of other gags too. Four hundred of Filmtown's toppers, plus Los Angeles socialites, dined and danced till dawn.

PATRICIA NEAL, homing from Korea will next co-star with Gary Merrill in "Face in the Deep" at 20th-Fox. Not to be confused with "Monster Beneath the Sea" . . . Dane Clark joins up with Nancy Kelly and Robert Young for the 48 week stage tour they'll do with "The Country Girl" . . . On the set of "Back to Broadway" Virginia Mayo and Gene Nelson are fussin' and feudin' about the way their dance's should be danced . . . Phil Regan, the singer, will be a grandpa for the FIFTH time in October . . . If her studio hasn't another picture ready to start as soon as "The Farmer Takes a Wife" is finished, Betty Grable keeps getting her over five thousand dollars a week salary just the same!

REUNION—The annual reunion of the Kulp family was held at Flowing Springs park. Taking part in the program were Isabel Kulp and Dorothy Longacre. Following officers were elected: John Kulp, president; Clarence A. Kulp, vice president; Mrs. Raymond Evans, secretary; Earl High, treasurer, and Mrs. William Levegood, historian.

NEW TEACHERS—The school board elected the following new teachers: John A. Koury, Pottstown; Howard Horrocks, Collegeville; J. A. Rennard, Kenilworth; Peggy Ann Morris, 935 High street; Luther Supplee, 11 North Hanover street; John Kalwani, Philadelphia; Virginia Kemp, 439 Beech street, Dr. Harriet L. Stapp was elected to the medical corps.

WARDENS DANCE—More than 750 persons attended the Air Raid Wardens benefit dance held last night. On the program were Georgeann Jacobs, George Jacobs Jr., Thomas Wayne, and Al Dernier. Maurice Friedman, was in charge of the dance.

Firemen Celebrate Home Improvements

Friendship Fire company, Royersford, celebrated the completion of extensive improvements with an "open house" affair last night. Music was provided by Snobby Hunter's orchestra.

Starting Feb. 18, when three feet were excavated from under the old social quarters, the renovations include the installation of a modern U-shaped bar faced with corrugated glass and containing modern equipment.

An acousti-tile ceiling has been installed, with a sub-ceiling of aluminum screening to reflect the vari-colored fluorescent lighting, and supporting columns have been faced with mirrors on all four sides.

Furnishings include chrome tables and chairs. New brick facing has been placed on the exterior of the original firehall.

Limestone Rock Shower Stays Indiana Mystery

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Aug. 7 (AP)—The mysterious shower of limestone rocks that had fallen on the Lewis Chattins home for eight straight nights failed to materialize last night.

The rocks have fallen despite the presence of dozens of authorities and curious spectators.

Deputy sheriffs have no idea where they originate.

About 60 persons gathered last night at the small, frame home five miles north of Evansville for another performance, but they were disappointed.

Chattins said the rocks range up to the size of a cigar package. They have been through a crusher and are of the type used for road work.

The only damage has been severe. Saturday afternoon at 4:30, a shattered porch thermometer.

Air Force Expert Sets Texas Bus Deaths at 28

WACO, Tex., Aug. 7 (AP)—The death toll in Monday's flaming crash of two Greyhound buses was fixed finally at 28 today.

R. L. Trask, civilian identification expert with the Air Force, announced the conclusion after completing classification of remains taken from the charred wreckage of the vehicles that crashed head-on just before dawn on a clear stretch of highway near Waco.

Trask said he definitely had determined that 26 persons died in the accident. Further, he said, heat from the fire that followed the collision was not intense enough to cremate a human body. Therefore, he concluded, there were no more than 28 known victims.

Pottstown Portraits

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By LARRY DAVIS

DENTISTS rarely look like dentists. Such is the case with Dr. Joseph Edward Tagert, Pottstown dental surgeon.

Watching him at the close of a busy day as he checks his forthcoming schedule of appointments clad in slacks and open-necked sports shirt, Dr. Tagert appears more like the experienced insurance salesman laying out his evening calls.

For six years a member of the board of directors of Memorial hospital and in his second term as vice-president, he is agile, precise, friendly, businesslike and unburdened. Thirty-nine years old this coming September 50, he could easily pass for 30. He is five feet six inches tall, tips the scales at a solid 165 pounds, has blue eyes and straight, brown hair.

He is fond of all the major sports, and so far this year has managed to witness 10 major league ball games despite his busy days and evenings in his office. He roots alike for the A's and the Phillies.

He likes good music, but in company with friends can easily be persuaded to add his tenor voice to good old barbershop harmony.

Dr. Tagert was born in Ambridge, near Pittsburgh, the only son and one of two children of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Tagert, 1035 High street. His sister is Mrs. Carroll L. Rutter, wife of the Pottstown attorney.

The elder Tagert, then associated with the American Bridge company, brought his family east to Pottstown when his son was four years old.

The dentist's education began in the old Grant school building at Keim and South streets, and was climaxed locally at Pottstown High school in 1930. An academic major, he was president of the student council in his junior and senior years and was active in athletics under Coach Carroll D. (Mush) Bechtel.

Following his graduation from Pottstown, he took the two-year pre-dental course at Ursinus college under the late Dr. J. Harold Brownback. Rooming with friends in Collegeville, he had little time for extra-curricular activity as he paved the way for his professional training.

Ursinus was followed by four years at Temple university's College of Dentistry as a resident student. He early became a member of Psi Omega, the dental fraternity, and lived in the fraternity home.

While he was at Temple, four honors were accorded him. He became a member of the honorary Blue Key society for outstanding academic work. He was elected to the student council and to the presidency of his fraternity, and he was one of six students selected by faculty members for inclusion in the national, Greek letter honorary dental society Omicron Kappa Upsilon. Scholastic ability as well as extra-curricular participation were the criteria of membership.

Following his graduation in 1936, he was offered office space to begin his private practice by Dr. J. W. Armstrong, at 333 High street. He accepted the offer and remained there until he enlisted in the Navy dental corps in the Fall of 1943. A lieutenant, his Navy service was confined to practice at the Patauxent River (Md.) Naval Air station until his separation in March 1946.

Dr. Tagert returned to 333 High street, and remained there until December 1948 when he purchased the building at 348 High street and remodeled the former Pottstown Water company office into a two-office air-conditioned suite.

"Many people," he says, "have asked me why I became a dentist, and truthfully, I don't exactly know. I had the usual ambitions as a boy, but somehow acquired the desire to become associated professionally with the dental aspect of medicine. There is something clean about the work; but that is very difficult to describe."

Dr. Tagert was married on Aug. 13, 1938, to the former Ruth Frances Vergey, and has one son, Bobby, 10, who presently is at camp for the Summer in Canada. The family lives at 647 High street.

ANYONE have a secretary's job they'd like to unload on a hard worker?

Mrs. Elmer Vert Betz, who has three such organizational positions may be just the candidate, although it is hard to say just how she could possibly fulfill the additional obligation.

At the present time she is doing the clerking and paper-work for the home association of the George A. Amole Post 47, American Legion; filling her second term as secretary for the 41-unit Montgomery Bucks Bi County council, American Legion auxiliary, and will shortly re-assume the duties as secretary for the local Legion's auxiliary under the administration of Mrs. Daniel Hayes.

Since she first joined the Auxiliary in November 1945 as the result of the war service of her brother, Howard Detwiler, a Signal Corps technical sergeant, Mrs. Betz has been on a continual merry-go-round of Legion affairs. In her nearly seven years she has missed only two meetings, once on the death of her father, the late Charles Y. Detwiler, and once because she went to a local breakfast in Somethingorother show.

In her first year, she was named chairman of the group's Americanism committee; then she went into membership work and received a prize for enticing the largest number of new members into the Auxiliary. For two years she was secretary before she was elected to the presidency for the year 1949-50. In 1951 she was chairman for community service and later membership chairman.

She has been chairman for the Auxiliary's poppy committee and has been Department sub-chairman for poppies in the Bi County council. She is chaplain for the Eight and Forty, the feminine counterpart of the Legion's charitable and funmaking Forty and Eight.

Besides holding offices and chairmanships, Mrs. Betz won the coveted role of a page at the Auxiliary's national convention in Philadelphia in 1948, and served on the Rules and Regulations committee at the Department convention of 1950. She has attended every Department convention since 1946, including one to which she had to hobble with her left leg in a plaster cast.

That somewhat incapacitating experience resulted when she was playfully jumping rope with a clothesline, missed her footing and broke her left foot.

Auburn haired, with gray-green eyes and genuine freckles, weighing 105 pounds and standing five feet three and one half inches, she was born in Reading on April 16, 1913, and christened Mary Margaret. She never, however, uses her second name. The parents, originally from Pottstown, moved back to this community when she was six.

She was educated at the old Hancock school on North Charlotte street and was a member of the 1930 graduating class of Pottstown High school.

Having taken a commercial course, she answered several newspaper ads for help wanted and as the result of one, became secretary and general office girl for Carl F. Troutman on North Hanover street.

A year later she went to the office of the Smith Pie company and at the time of her marriage in 1937 became office girl for Milton Wentzel, High street motorcycle dealer. She has been fulltime clerk for the Legion's home association for the past four years.

Mrs. Betz met her husband, Elmer, when he was at the former Betz restaurant (fondly remembered as "The Beanery", open 24 hours a day) at King and Hanover streets. The place also sold Easter flowers and she was trying to make a last minute telephone purchase for her mother.

The only flowers left were an azalea in a broken pot and a drooping chrysanthemum. She didn't buy either, but the phone call ripened into romance.

Now every year, as a reminder of the occasion, she receives from her husband at Easter a potted azalea. The couple lives with its 13-year-old daughter, Sandra, and Mrs. Betz's mother, Mrs. Sandella Detwiler, at 564 State street.

Boy Bothers Dog's Meal; Gets Nipped

A dog-bite injury to a little boy's ear, and two finger injuries were treated within two hours yesterday in Memorial hospital's dispensary.

Four-year-old Jimmy Pierce, Collegeville RD 2, had his right ear nipped when he made the mistake of trying to take away the dog food his dog was eating.

Bernice Piroshak, 24, of 354 Apple street, had a laceration of the tip of her right thumb, suffered while slicing onions at a West High street diner.

Glenn Bowen, 41, Royersford RD 5, said yesterday that it was RD 1, had his index finger cut his car that was backed into, not while working under a car motor.

The roles played by Viscardi and the other driver inadvertently were reversed in the account of the mishap in Wednesday's Mercury.

Viscardi said he reported the accident to borough police.

Egypt Would Welcome Arms Aid If Offered

CAIRO, Aug. 7 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib, strongman commander-in-chief of Egyptian armed forces, said tonight he would welcome military supplies from foreign powers, including the United States, if they are offered.

But, he added in an interview: "We would accept such aid only if it does not constitute an attempt to infringe upon Egypt's independence and sovereignty."

His statement on arms aid was significant as the first such pronouncement since he forced King Farouk to abdicate July 26 and installed a reform government under Premier Aly Maher.
